RESOLUTION

Supporting the goals and ideals of National Zoo Keeper Week, and for other purposes.

Whereas July 15 through July 21, 2007, marks the first National Zoo Keeper Week;

Whereas throughout the world animal populations are declining at an alarming rate with many facing extinction;

Whereas zoological institutions have become the final hope for many endangered species recovery programs through conservation research, release programs, and by being a portal through which the general public can view and appreciate disappearing wildlife;

Whereas zoological institutions are population managers of keystone and cornerstone species, emphasizing the restoration of not just endangered species, but also the delicate balance of nature;

Whereas zoo keepers are vital advocates for conservation, participating in the fight for species survival and preservation of the natural homelands of the animals they care for through public awareness, education, and exhibition;

Whereas zoo keepers work closely with zoo managers on conservation research projects, which provide zoos with important information to help preserve rare and endangered species and learn more about species which may become threatened in the future;

Whereas zoo keepers have become animal caretakers devoting their lives to caring for these animals;

Whereas zoo keepers have become the spokespersons for vanishing wildlife, carrying the conservation message of habitat loss, endangered species, and preservation of nature's threatened wildlands to the public;

Whereas zoo keepers have committed their lives to ongoing professional development and training in becoming animal specialists, educators, choreographers of animal behaviors through enrichment, behavior managers through operant conditioning, and reproductive specialists through improved observations and husbandry; and

Whereas to help increase public awareness about the need to preserve precious habitats and the animals which inhabit them and to recognize the invaluable roles that zoo keepers play in animal conservation and education: Now, therefore, be it
